

Low Income Home Water Assistance (LIHWA) Program

Clackamas River Water (CRW) and Clackamas County are working together in a new way with a program called Low-Income Home Water Assistance (LIHWA).

This program is a new effort funded by the Federal government. It is currently only a one-time program but could continue into the future.

About 79,428 households in Clackamas County may be eligible for this one-time program. LIHWA allows Clackamas County to directly pay CRW water bills for eligible households. This support can be used for:

- Current Charges
- Past Due Amounts
- Reconnection Fees

To be eligible:
Household income
must be at or below
60 percent of Oregon's median income based on size (see chart).
